Demystifying Financial Statements

Presented by Derek Stevenson ATB Branch for Arts and Culture

Class Agreement

- We believe in creating a safe environment that encourages belonging, fairness and respect for every participant, facilitator, volunteer, and community member participating in our programs.
- · We commit to creating a safe space for everyone by:
 - Respecting each person regardless of how they identify (including their gender, sexuality, age, religion, race, culture, beliefs, physical and neurological abilities, etc.)
 - Not interrupting others.
 - Being mindful of how much time/space we each take up in discussions.
 - Making time/space for others to speak.
 - Using "I" statements ("I feel," "I think," "I wonder," etc.).
- Replacing criticism with questions and encouragement
- Respecting those who wish to listen silently.
- · We commit to allowing everyone to take care of themselves by:
- Encouraging anyone to leave the room at any time.
- · Following up on conversations with Facilitators following each session

DISCLAIMER

I am not an accountant, this presentation outlines some common characteristics about Financial Statements for Non-profits. I will try and answer your questions to the best of my ability, but am unable to give you specific accounting advice. I urge you to ask detailed questions about your organizations financials to a certified accountant.

The purpose of this workshop is to increase your comfort with analyzing, reviewing, and building financial statements for your organization.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

• Review and understand:

- The difference between Financials, Budgets & Bank Accounts
- Statement of Financial Position
- Statement of Operations
- Cash Flow Statement
- Language of Financials (liquidity, restricted funds, etc)
- Some tricky financial situations for not for profits
 - In Kind
 - Capital Purchases
- Deferred Revenue

| WHAT IS THE DIFFERENCE? | | | | | | |
|--|---|--|--|--|--|--|
| FINANCIAL STATEMENTS | BUDGETS | BANK ACCOUNTS | | | | |
| Financial statements are written records that convey the business activities and the financial performance of a company. Financial statements are often audited by government agencies, accountants, firms, etc. to ensure accuracy and for tax, financing, or investing purposes. Ex. Statement of Financial Position, Statement of Operations, Cash flow statement. | A budget is an estimation of revenue and expenses over a specified future period of time and is usually compiled and re- evaluated on a periodic basis. At organizations, a budget is an internal tool used by management and Boards and is often not required for reporting by external parties, granting agencies, government funders, financial institutions and sponsors. | A bank account is an arrangement made with a financial institution whereby one may deposit and withdraw money and in some cases be paid interest. Some accounts include checking, savings, line- of-credit, credit cards, loans, GIC, investment accounts. | | | | |

Key Features Statement of Financial Position

- Snap shot of the financial health
- Balance sheet must balance
- Must compare to a prior period to be useful
- Listed always in the order of:
 - Assets in order of liquidity*
 - Liabilities in the order of how quickly the claim matures

*Liquidity - Used to describe how easy it is to convert assets to cash. The most liquid asset, and what everything else is compared to, is cash.

Key Features

- Reports over a period of time
- Shows cash flow from three areas
 - Operating Activities (cash, amortization)
 - Investing Activities (increase or decrease in investments, purchase/sale of capital assets, contributions to reserve fund)
 - Financings Activities (payments of debts, payments of equipment)
- It is presented as a net increase of decrease in cash from previous period of time.

Why is Cash Flow important

- In non-profits some organizations receive income and cash in irregular ways, sometimes grants are split up into 4 large payments, other times earned revenue (like ticket sales) may come in after expenses costs occur.
- So even if an organization has a strong net revenue each year, knowing how much cash you have will help you with your ability to do business monthly.

CAPITAL PURCHASES

Say I buy a touring van for my organization, it's a used vehicle so it was $10,000. We believe this van will have a useful life of approximately 10 years.

YEAR 1

 I increase my "Property plant & Equipment" on my Statement of Financial Position by $9000 which is under ASSETS
 AND

ANL

Add $1000 to amortization (depreciation expense) under expenses on my statement of operations

YEAR 2

my property plant and equipment number will go down by $1000 on my statement of financial position under assets (totaling $8000 now for the current value of the van)

AND

- I add $1000 to amortization (depreciation) under expenses on my statement of operations (not $1000 more, because it is a new year, so it is a new $1000 expense this year)
- We continue this trend until the useful life the Van is no longer there.

Deferred Cash Contribution

Example: We have received a special project grant of $5000 from the Heart of the City Foundation, however the event isn't for another 6 months from now.

$5000 sits on our Statement of Financial position as Deferred Cash Contribution under LIABILITIES, as we have not EARNED this revenue yet.

Once the event has occurred this $5000 moves to our STATEMENT OF OPERATIONS under revenue.

We can still deposit this $5000 into a bank account, we can still budget $5000 in grant revenue in our budget. But for accounting purposes until we have met the obligation of putting on the event, in our accounting statements it sits as a Liability until the actual event occurs.

ACTIVITY: Look through the notes below and confirm how the note will affect next year's statement of operations or financial statement, note that some items may affect multiple sheets/or line items.

- 1. Unlike our current season, we have secured free space for two of our three performances
- 2. We are taking on significantly more risk with our expansion this year and want to make sure we have adequate protection.
- 3. Because of the increased education programming we anticipate we will need to hire additional instructors
- 4. We have secured a brand new sound equipment rental agreement with AMP Sound Inc. that is sponsored by AB Telecom.
- On top of our previous donations, we are going to implement a new donation campaign with an expanded reach.
- 6. An additional production was added into our season with music we have never performed befor
- We have received a special project grant of $5000 from the Heart of the City Foundation, however it is for a 6 months from now.
- You have purchased a new touring van for $10,000 with a 10 year lifecycle
- 9. A radio station has donated $1000 of free advertising for your organization
